

The new way to create legal documents

Headquartered in the Silicon Slopes of Utah and powered by Wilson Sonsini, SixFifty is a technology company that brings the expertise of the top legal minds to your fingertips.

Our technology is programmed to take on complex legal issues by providing customized contracts, policies, and documents for your clients. We continuously monitor dynamic areas of the law to update our tools in real time so you can too. Your clients enjoy the dual benefit of innovative technology powered by human expertise.

The law is complicated. SixFifty makes it easy.

Docs Need Updating

One of the biggest challenges businesses face is keeping their documents up to date. Employment and Privacy laws are changing faster than ever, and even annual updates are no longer sufficient.

Never Out Of Date

SixFifty monitors changes in the law and notifies you by email and within our platform. We'll tell you what's changed, and we make it easy to regenerate your documents so that they're never out of date.

Save hours by using SixFifty to create customized contracts, policies, and documents.

Employment Documents

SixFifty's Employee Handbook tool walks you through the creation of a handbook or standalone employment policies that are customized to fit your client's business and the current needs of their workforce. Our Employment Agreements tool guides you in creating contracts and documents for every stage of the employment lifecycle.

- Employee Handbook with over 65 policies
- Offer Letter
- Employee Contract
- Employment Agreements
- Separation Agreement
- Return to Work and COVID Workplace Policies
- Tools to improve Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

Privacy Documents

SixFifty's privacy toolset can help you draft the legal documentation your clients need to comply with current and future privacy laws worldwide.

- US: CCPA/CPRA, Colorado and Virginia coming soon
- Europe: GDPR, UK coming soon
- China: PIPL

Whenever there is a change in the law that affects your clients, we make it easy to update their contracts, policies, and documents with the click of a button.

"At Domo, we need to be ready for the needs of the business and also provide a safe working environment for our employees. When planning for employees to Return to Work, I worried about making sure we comply with ever-changing regulatory requirements, whether they're coming from cities, states, or the federal government. SixFifty's Return to Work solution is integral in making sure we return to work the right way."

Dan Stevenson, Chief Legal Officer, Domo
